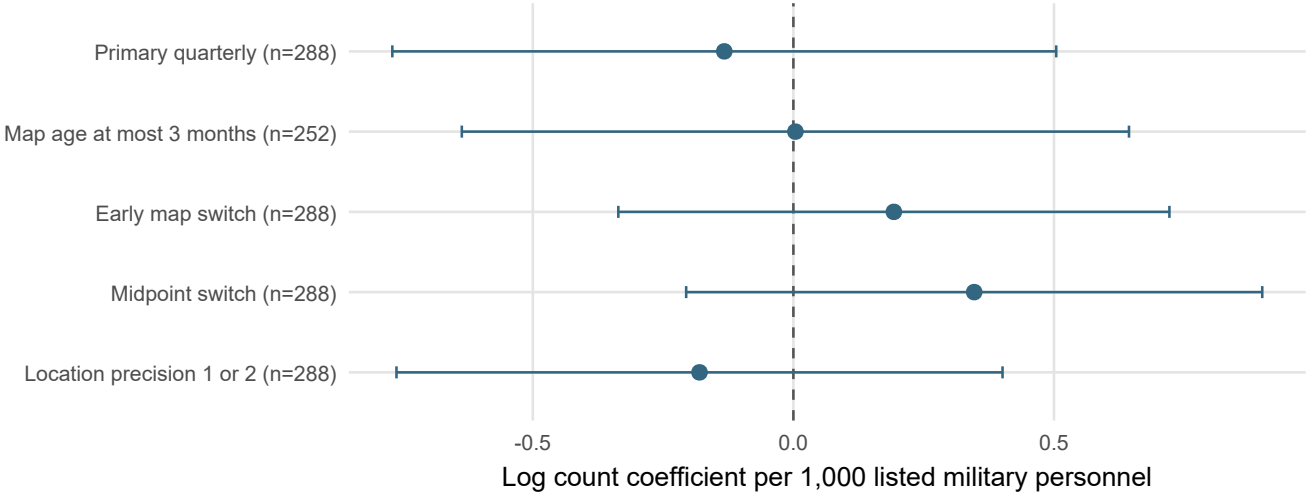
The common association remains imprecise

Actual quarterly event-count fits under five measurement assumptions



Points and model-based 95% Wald intervals. No locality-specific deployment slopes were fitted.
Timing alternatives use later maps retrospectively; the three-month rule changes the sample.